

Meet Your Friends and Neighbors

Rebecca Hershberger

The following is a series of weird 'Craigslist, inc.' advertisements from San Diego listings. My goal was to write a poem on each ad, that reflects the gist of the advertisement. I employed the following constraints in the composition of these pieces: 1) I only use words directly from the ad, spelled as they are in the advertisement, 2) word reversals need to be limited, and 3) phraseology also needs to be similar to the advertisement's original phraseology.

Sounds wierd but I have had surgery recently and post surgery have left my private parts rather uncomfortable. I could use some cream and gentle rub to relieve the pain and bring confort.

the surgeon says the a massage and crean could relieve the discomfort

I can explain more and even offer a smal sum for the service

have pics to trade but service is the primary focus of this posting

Goats and Chickens (San Diego area)

I'm looking for other people who own goats and chickens in San Diego area. I just moved here from the East and don't know anyone yet. I love goats and visiting farms. If you have a farm email me. I'm doing an interesting project. I'd love to help out on your farm.
