Library materials are now available to all RWS faculty, graduate students, TAs, Fellows, and Tutors.

The RWS collection – rhetoric texts, composition textbooks, technical writing materials, grammar guides, dictionaries, reference materials, DVDs of previous RWS Landmark Lectures, and an eclectic variety of other texts – is available for reference and check out. We encourage graduate students and faculty to take advantage of our library and imagine a range of purposes, including reference, research for classes, longitudinal studies of the development of language, digital communication, online discourse, and more.

For more information or for access to our new library, please contact: Karen Keene at x45477 or kkeene@mail.sdsu.edu – thank you.
